Professional Height Adjustable Tables

'TowerLine' worktables are a solution suitable for a modern, state-of-the-art laboratory. They are designed to accommodate the necessary measurement equipment and other tools ergonomically at a safe distance for use.

The TowerLine worktables are robust, elegant and very flexible; they adapt to individual needs, new equipment, and changes in environment or work.

SPACE SAVER

The flexibility and ergonomics of industrial workstations are now also available for development and research laboratories. Tower-Line tables provide more space for R&D and measuring work. Space can be used more effectively with double-sided workstations. This also means that the same equipment can be used for an entire team.
